From Anne Freeling:

2015 saw our membership reach its goal of donating 200 quilts to our local neo-natal unit. As a result, Carolyn issued a challenge to all of us to donate one quilt in 2016 which would ensure our meeting our goal again. I am so thrilled to be able to tell you all that you have more than met her challenge and that we have actually donated 260 quilts this year. Many quilts were turned in anonymously, so it is impossible to identify all of you who participated in this charitable drive. However, we did keep a list of those of you who "signed" your quilts, and it is so gratifying to see how many donated multiple quilts. Although it would be difficult to list all of your names here, there are a few members who must be especially recognized for their generosity. Cathy Laramee donated 7, Julie Brewer and Barbara Raffell each contributed 8, Nancy Howard and Paula Ruskin each made 15 quilts, and Candy Lord turned in an astonishing 20. I feel absolutely overwhelmed by the generosity of the women in this Guild. Your quilts are as beautiful as your hearts. Thank you so much for all that you did for those innocent babies; your gifts helped them to begin their lives with warmth and love.
